The Parramore Room (1st Floor, DPAC 107)

Read More >

The Parramore community room honors the oldest Black and African American neighborhood in Orlando, which is also home to the the Downtown campus. This space serves as a meeting space for departments, student groups and community organizations. The custom stained glass window incorporates historical artifacts, photos, illustrations, and a poem from the students at the City of Orlando -Neighborhood Center, a local community center located near the campus. Created by artist Nancy Gutkin O'Neil, the piece is named, "If we can truly remember, they will not forget," from poet Miller Williams' Of History and Hope. The artwork features six panels of tempered and laminated float glass with fired-in pigments.

The Bridge (3rd Floor, DPAC West Wing)

Read More >

Displays a exquisite mural called "Unleash Your Potential" painted by a UCF Alumni in one weekend showcasing the collaboration and partnership between UCF and Valencia College. The artist shared he wanted to use colors that represent both institutions. Yellow and red represent Valencia's colors, while the stars symbolize UCF's motto of "Reach for the Stars." Oranges are a classic Florida staple and two wings on the side walls reference the swans at downtown's Lake Eola and the Pegasus, which is a UCF symbol. The Downtown campus has a lot of community, competition and talented people that will push students to find their potential. Take advantage of this great photo opportunity for Downtown visitors and guests!
